REVISED 12/12/2008

Welcome to Van Beveren's Reedville Cafe. We have a long history as a neighborhood gathering place. In fact, the building is somewhat of a local landmark.

For years it was called "The Shack", a name that accurately described the original building, (most of the present building was constructed in 1955 when the Tualatin Valley Highway was widened to four lanes). It was a tavern, a place to stop for some good conversation over a favorite brew (or two).

In 1950, Al and Polly Van Beveren bought the business lock, stock and barrel and it has been in the Van Beveren family ever since. In the late fifties Al and Polly started serving food and by the time their son Rick took the reins in 1978 The Shack had a pretty good reputation for its terrific hamburgers and fried chicken. Over the past few years, Reedville has changed a lot and so has the place. The cafe has been remodeled several times, the kitchen and dining rooms enlarged and an outdoor dining area added to serve meals to ever growing numbers of loyal customers.

In 1990 The Shack's name was changed to the Reedville Cafe & Catering Company and began offering a full range of catering services. The owners, management and staff are proud of the cafe and catering company. Their pride is reflected in every meal they serve ...thanks for coming in!

C R A B F E S T

Join us this January at the Reedville Cafe for our annual month-long Crabfest Celebration, commemorating our 20 years (from 1955-75) in the Seafood business at the Crab Shack. Look for "Louie", the giant crab that sits atop the Cafe in January.

■ Every weekend during Crabfest, the Reedville Cafe serves fresh, whole Oregon Dungeness Crab with garlic cheese bread, cole slaw, butter and all the right tools. You may have to work for your dinner... but it's well worth it.

■ The Cafe also serves several classic crab dishes during Crabfest including our Crab Bisque, Crab Louies, and other favorites.

■ Of course, you don't have to wait until January... because you can order a Grilled Crab & Cheese Sandwich, or a Crab Caesar Salad from our Lunch & Dinner Menu anytime.
